NOTICE

The city of Thomaston is in the process of conducting flow testing on specific fire hydrants. This is part of the requirement for the city's ISO inspection that will begin next week. The tests are being conducted at night in efforts to mitigate issues. However, due to the change in hydraulics, sedimentation in the pipes can be disturbed and cause water discoloration. The water department has been working diligently to rectify this. The water is still safe and potable. If you notice discoloration, please contact the water department at 706-646-8031 and they will respond to flush accordingly. We are sorry for the inconvenience, but hydrants must be tested for the ISO rating.
